The social network for food eaters

Built With

About The Project

Welcome to a brand new social network, solely dedicated for food! Preparing an exquisite, well timed meal has never been so easy.

Our project is an ecosystem where you can register yourself into, share your knowledge by reviewing published recipes, and if your'e kind enough - showcase some of your go-to jaw droppers ;)

Our project is build as a website, where you register, saved into a database, and log in. your recipes are connected to your user, and you will be able to see the reviews and rating on them. In addition, you can search recipes by varoius criteria which we recommend you to explore :)

Getting Started

Prerequisites

- You must have MySQL server installed, link here: <https://dev.mysql.com/downloads/installer/> choose to install all components, configure the server (don't touch anything, aside from choosing a password, REMEMBER THIS PASSWORD)
- Node.js: <https://nodejs.org/en/download/>

Installation

1. Clone the repo
`git clone https://github.com/eyalmichon/RecipeApp.git`
2. Create a file named `secrets.json` in the root folder of the project, and add the following:

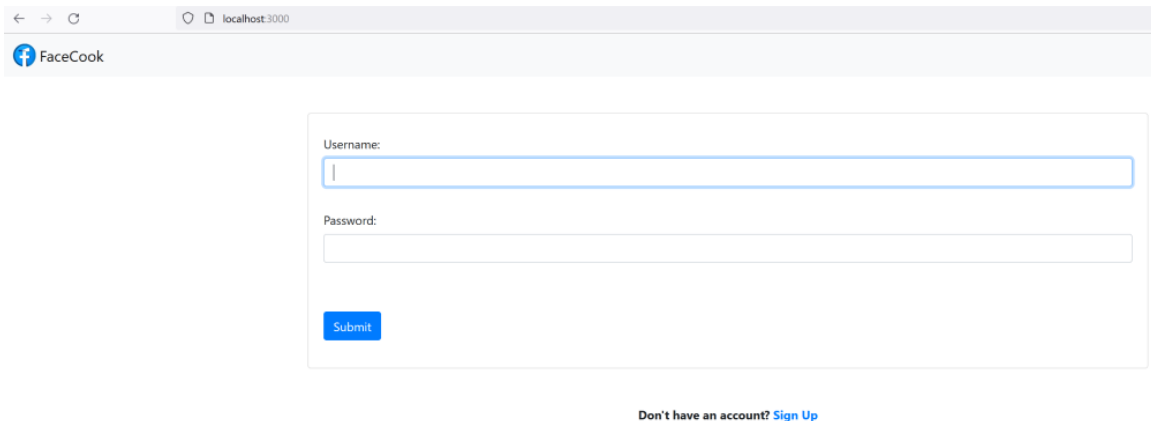

```
{
  "DB_USERNAME": "root",
  "DB_PASSWORD": "YOUR_PASSWORD_HERE"
}
```

3. Simply run the following inside the project folder:
`npm install`
4. Finally, run the following to start the server:
`npm start` or `node facecook.js`

Like an artist before he makes the first stroke of a masterpiece, you stand before a blank page. You choose the name, the description, specify the exact portions of each ingredient to ensure nobody messes up your creation and reviews you poorly, and you instruct each and every step as detailed as possible, so the excited reader can see the means become an end.

When I drink, this is my drink of choice. I have also had it with just normal, unsweetened apple juice out of the can. While the flavour is quite different, it is still very tasty! I don't garnish mine with anything but my lips! Thanks for posting!

Now that I'm drinking this, I realize that my cider is not spiced, but just plain. It's still good though! :) I'm used to drinking my whiskey with Coke but this is nice for a change of pace. Like the previous reviewer, I did not garnish with anything either. Thanks for posting!
